HUSBAND IN DESPAIR SICK ALL HER LIFE

Wife Had Ceased Eating and Suffered Continually

HAS APPETITE NOW

Mrs. J. H. Johnson of No. 7, Charlotte Street, Charleston, wife of J.
R. Johnson, the well known engineer on the Seaboard Airline Railroad, after having received medical advice in Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee at different intervals since she was fifteen years of age to the effect that she was suffering from ulcerated stomach and gall stone, gives a vivid illustration of what Tanlac is daily accomplishing for like sufferers.

She had stomach trouble all her life, was prone to fits of vomiting and was absolutely lacking in appetite. After taking only two doses of Tanlac she declares, she ate the first food that she had eaten in sixteen weeks.

"I suffered from stomach trouble all my life," states Mrs. Jackson.
"When I was two years old I was given up by my physicians to die, and again when I was fifteen years old. I have had, according to eminent medical advice in Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, gall stone and ulcerated stomach, and they finally said an obstruction in my stomach. On consulting medical advice in Charleston, I was informed that it was impossible to state just what the trouble was.

"My most distressing symptom was vomiting. For sixteen weeks before I took Tanlac I had been unable to retain anything on my stomach—not even medicine or raw eggs. I was told that I would have died for lack of nourishment if I had not been so stout. I weighed 227 pounds before I took sick, and I have really lived on superfluous flesh for bodily nourishment. My husband had given up all hope. One evening recently I remarked how badly and emaciated I looked. Mr. Johnson burst out crying, and said, 'Lucy don't say that. Just think! One month ago I thought you would die.
I had given up all hope and here you are nearly well.'

"It's true. I have taken a little over three bottles of Tanlac. After taking only two doses—now, don't laugh; it's a fact—after I had two doses I ate the first food I had eaten in sixteen weeks. I consider that wonderful indeed. I am now eating nearly everything I want."

All Sorts of Sports Hats

Sports and outing hats are classed as one in a new department of millinery that stands for the spirit of the times. There are all sorts of sports hats, from the low-priced but chic fabric-covered shapes which one may buy for a very few dollars, to the expensive hand-wrought shapes with handmade garnitures that cost their possessors several times $10.
But sports hats are luxuries which all may enjoy—an extra hat with which the new woman expresses her devotion to out-of-doors and the pleasures of summer time.

Besides innumerable fabric-covered hats there are sports hats made of millinery braids and other millinery materials which give designers ample opportunity to depart from the ordinary in creations unlike other millinery. Originality is much prized and the fancy is allowed free play in hats of this character, so that unexpected and even bizarre novelties find ready following. Among the most successful of those lately produced are shapes with round crowns and flexible brims, covered with Turkish toweling in cream color. Fruits and flowers are made of this unpromising material for trimming them, but paint has become a part of the milliners' equipment, and their fruits and flowers show what the artist can do with homely material. These hats are high in price and in the favor of fashionables.

A hat made of small silk pieces in many different colors, joined together with hemstitching, appears to be inspired by the "crazy quilt" of other days. As patchwork is an American art this bit of bright headwear ought to appeal to Americans. At any rate it is faced with a plain satin and is beautifully made, flaunting its gay colors among fine Panamas and Bangkoks whose elegance is never questioned.

Stripes have lodged themselves firmly in the popular mind as the best of the several styles in materials used for sports hats and other sports clothes. A hat and sweater coat are pictured here made of blue and white knitted fabric, and a hat of white canvas cloth with varicolored stripes.
They are dependable styles for outing wear.
